

District of Columbia

Responses indicate there are data collection, agreements and policies. Written policies identify and serve expectant and parenting youth in foster care.

Data are collected on young women who are pregnant or parenting; the number and custodial status of children of young women and men in foster care; and the race/ethnicity, length of stay and permanency status of parenting youth in foster care. Ages are not specified.

Washington, D.C., provides extended foster care to age 21 under Title IV-E.

Washington, D.C. Child and Family Services Agency

Written policies?

Yes

Data collection requirements?

Yes

Data elements added to child welfare database?

Yes

Data sharing agreements with other systems?

Yes

Education, employment services

Yes

Programmatic data collected on youth and their children?

Home visiting, parenting/coparenting, fatherhood involvement, educational status (enrolled in high school or postsecondary education), employment status, housing, homelessness